IAN RICKETTS

Brand, Sales & Operations

I build brands, sell the work, and run the business behind it.

Eight years in branded merchandise, from owning a screen-printing shop to running it as General Manager. I have directed 10+ full rebrands, including Bear Prints to BRANDLAB, helped 60+ companies define their brand and merch, and sold the work myself: ~$345K in revenue as owner-operator, with the largest accounts won through consultative selling. I lead a team of seven across sales, art, production and customer service, and I know every step between a client's first call and the box on their doorstep.

Brand and creative

Naming, identity, positioning and voice, then the merch, stores and collateral that carry it. 10+ rebrands and 60+ client brands, 15+ branded online stores launched. Directing designers, freelancers and AI tools toward one consistent result. 400+ production-ready graphics shipped.

Sales and accounts

Consultative B2B selling and cold outreach that turns a first conversation into a program. Quoting, sourcing and pricing apparel, promo and hardgoods to the brand and the budget. Own the relationship from discovery through proofs, production and reorders. HubSpot Inbound Sales certified.

Leadership and operations

Owned the company, then ran it as General Manager: team of seven, production standards, customer service and the launch of a new location from build-out to grand opening. Clear direction, honest feedback and a team people want to do their best work for. Fluent in every decoration method, so nothing gets lost between the quote and the shelf.

BRANDLAB

Late 2022 to present · Redmond, OR

Formerly Bear Prints, est. 1978 · General Manager and Creative Lead · previously Owner, Graphic Designer, Screen Printer

- Generated ~$345K in revenue as owner-operator, including ~$146K across 14 enterprise-scale orders, by pairing design with consultative selling and cold outreach.
- Lead a team of seven across sales, art, production and customer service; partnered with the owner to launch the new location from build-out through its February 2026 grand opening.
- Directed the full rebrand of a 1978 screen-printing shop into BRANDLAB: set the vision, created the name, logo, slogan and business model, and carried the identity through signage, website, online store and collateral.
- Account lead for 60+ client brands, from first call through quoting, proofs, production and reorders. Delivered identity, merchandise and marketing, and launched branded online stores for 15+ of them.
- Guide clients on garments, styles and hardgoods, quoting and sourcing each product to the brand, the audience and the budget. 400+ production-ready graphics art-directed and shipped.
- Set production standards and mentor staff on art prep and separations; the work ships the way it was quoted and designed.

Bestfrend

2018 to present · bestfrend.xyz

Founder · brand, product, sales and operations

- Built an independent apparel and art brand from nothing and ran every part of it: the world and voice of the brand, the art, the garments, the photography, the drops, the store and the customer.
- Made the clothing by hand, from sourcing fabric and blanks through cutting, sewing, printing and finishing, then packed and shipped every order. Primary income from 2019 to 2022.
- Added print-on-demand for secondary products, which began three years of POD fluency on top of hands-on production.
- Built and run the storefronts myself; fluent in Shopify and Squarespace from launching and managing the brand's own.
- Everything it takes to start and run a clothing brand, learned by doing it: product, production, pricing, e-commerce, content, fulfillment and community.

White Hill

2026 to present · whitehillweb.com

Founder · brand, websites and B2B sales

- Founded a two-sided studio: websites, SEO and Google services for small businesses, and a SaaS revenue-recovery product for trade contractors.
- Four clients since founding, each taken from discovery through brand, build and launch, with identities designed from scratch where the business needed one.
- Creative lead on every engagement: understanding what the owner is trying to become, then designing the brand and site that gets them there.
- Own the full client relationship, from first conversation through launch, hosting and ongoing care.
